Every American Should Read It

On the editorial page of this issue is an article "The Issue Is Drawn," written by Boake Carter. It is a dispassionate story of the faithlessness of Franklin Delano Roosevelt. It is a picture of his weakness in wanting to continue in power—a disregard of "the stone over which so many near-great men have sumbled in the peak of their career." It is an article this newspaper believes every one should read. A simple statement of fact, not an abusive tirade—A convincing array of truths which will cause you to get clear in your mind the fact Franklin Delano Roosevelt is not the man for dictator, (for this country will never survive under a dictator,) of The United States.

Supervisor Bittenbender Doing An Excellent Job

OILING COMMENCED

Bridges On Road To Be Strengthened Or Rebuilt

WILLITS, August 12.—Supervisor Duane Bittenbender is having some splendid and permanent work done on the roads in the Third district. Ever since he has been in office he has had men working on the Willits end of the Fort Bragg highway, mostly with WPA assistance. This year he intends to oil seven miles of this highway and the crew is now working. The county rock crusher is getting out the material, which is spread on the road and then sprinkled and rolled, after which the oil is applied. This gives an armour coat such as is used by the State and conforms to State standards in every respect as to curvature and grades.

Laytonville Helped

What would be the city of Laytonville, if it was incorporated, is also being treated in like manner. The east-west road from the hill to a point near the school building on the Jackson valley road is being rocked and oiled and also some adjacent streets and this job will be approximately a mile in length. It is contract work and is being done by Charles Kuppinger, of Lakeport, who owns equipment for this kind of work.

Put In New Bridge

The big bridge in Sherwood valley across Sherwood creek is being replaced by a new one. The old bridge is said to be about 60 years of age and was getting in a dangerous condition.

Railroad Crew Active

The railroad bridge crew has been working out of Willits several weeks. The crew is now replacing the cattle bridge on the DeCamp ranch and following this will repair several bridges on the Outlet.

H. B. Muir is winding up his tanbark business for this season. He expects his crews have peeled about 900 cords which is one-tenth of what he used to peel thirty years ago.

Business Is Good

Homer Helm and George Vassar were here from their Jackson valley sawmill Wednesday. They report their mill operating and now have all the orders they can handle and but little lumber is being stacked.

Mrs. Sarah Fulker, nee Sarah McPhillips, came over from Sacramento last week for a short visit with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hall came here from Fortuna last week to attend the funeral of the late Henry Hopper.

Were Married Friday

Miss Ellen Hamilton and John Steen were married at the Methodist parsonage Friday evening by Rev. C. L. Buckner. The invited guests were limited to members of the contracting families and following the ceremony the newlyweds left on a short honeymoon. Both bride and groom were born and raised in this vicinity and both are graduates of the local schools. The groom is employed by the Albion Lumber Company and they will make their home at Camp 20.

Building A Home

Verneth Dryden is building a $2,700 modern home on Flower street. Mr. and Mrs. Dryden were married this summer and they believe in starting out in life in the proper manner.

Married In South

Announcement was received here last week Viola Sundstrom, a former member of our high school faculty, was married to Lionel Wilburton at Pasadena last month.

TWELFTH DISTRICT FAIR WILL PROVIDE A HIGH-CLASS SHOW

Premium List Reaches $8000 — Entertainment Arranged For All Ages — Exhibits Will Be Best Seen Here

Once again this normally conventional Redwood Empire community will resound to the whoops of Indians, trappers, cowboys, lumber-jacks and the public in general on August 23-24-25, when the annual 12th District Agricultural Fair will be held at the fair grounds north of the city.

Weeks of preparation will culminate in a program of fun, entertainment and excitement.

In Good Hands

There will be something doing every minute, according to Fair directors, who have appointed Horticultural Commissioner Norman Buhn to manage the big horse show on Saturday and Sunday, August 24-25, which will feature sixteen classes in the professional division, seven classes of locally owned stock horses; and two classes of children's mounts, with total premium awards amounting to $2180.

Premium List Filled

A ten per cent increase in premiums this year will attract a larger number of agricultural, livestock and domestic science exhibitors, particularly among local Future Farmer and 4-H Club groups, fair officials declare, as already many reservations for exhibit space have been received.

To Dedicate Hall

Various new features have been added to this year's program of entertainment, including a barbecue and local contest of horsemanship on Saturday, August 23. In the evening the new Grange Hall will be dedicated with an opening dance; music to be furnished by a popular well-known dance band.

Much to See

Street parades featuring many novelty entries, including beautifully matched and decorated mounted units; free fireworks Sunday night; a world championship model-T auto race, Sunday afternoon, with daring drivers from all parts of the Redwood Empire taking part; and an amateur contest will offer a diversified three-day fun program. Livestock exhibits, agricultural displays, domestic science and educational attractions will be featured during the entire three days, with judging of entries and awarding of premiums to winners in various classes and divisions to be handled by competent judges. Colorful street decorations and "pioneer" costumes worn by many local fair boosters will add much to the enjoyment of visitors to this annual Redwood Empire variety show attraction, fair officials declare.

A GREAT HAND TO QUADRILLE

Santa Rosans Were Appreciative Of Horsemanship

The Ukiah Quadrille, deservedly a source of pride in this city, again scored a success when it appeared at Sonoma County Fair Saturday night in Santa Rosa and received a tremendous ovation from an audience of thousands. Nine couples, beautifully mounted, made a brilliant display—partners garbed in shirts of the same color, ladies wearing white chaps, and the men black chaps. "Heinie" Heinrich did an expert job of calling the changes for the quadrille, which went through a smooth and perfect routine, giving a performance which was a tribute to Co-Managers O. E. Elphick and Wes Martin, as well as to each individual member.

Got Big Hand

The wonderful applause at Saturday night's showing testified more clearly than any words to the excellency of this group of riders who have earned a number of invitations to appear in various parts of the state. Partners were Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Elphinck, who carired the flags; Charles Luce and Barbara Scott; Mr. and Mrs. Merle McCosker. Stanley Watson and Mrs. J. R. Holmes; Bert Richey and Betty Richey; Ralph Richardson and Irma Moore; Ben Edwards and Jane Small; Tom Martin and Betty Moore; and Mr. and Mrs. Al Batman.

WHERE HOOVER FAILED!

An inspired piece from one of the New Deal propagandists says that "Hoover was a complete failure."

So he was, freely admits the Wallace, Idaho Weekly Miner. He failed in a lot of things.

He failed to draw his salary of $75,000 a year while he was President, turning it all back into the Treasury. He failed to have his sons organize insurance companies to write insurance on Government enterprises. He built a Rapidan resort for fishing and recreation at his own expense and gave it to the Government. None of his sons went racing through the divorce courts to the disillusionment of the public. He never bundled up a lot of Government documents to sell as a book to the faithful at a huge profit to himself, and he never sold himself into political slavery to a labor organization for a $500,000 campaign fund. He gathered a marvelous collection of war stuff and built a museum for it, and failed to ask Congress to pay the bill—he paid it himself.

He did not preach and promote class hatred, and he did not try to pack the Supreme Court. He did not plow up every third row of cotton, and he did not promise the American people one thing while at the very same moment doing everything to accomplish the directly opposite result.

He did not ask Congress to assess the taxpayers billions of dollars every time someone shot off a firecracker in Europe, and he did not go on fishing trips on Government warships accompanied by a fleet of destroyers. Neither did he kill off all the farmers' little pigs, nor encourage the importation of Argentine beef.

In fact, there were a lot of foolish things that Hoover didn't do that some other people have done. There are a lot of constructive things that he could have done if he had not had the opposition of a Democratic Congress . . . but anyway, he did not leave the American people $45,000,000,000 in debt.

Mrs. Hoover never made speeches or raced hither and yon on unimportant matters. She never wrote silly drivel on her everyday life and sold it to the newspapers, and she never sold soap over the radio. Her only appearance in public was as an honorary member of the Girl Scouts of America. She never invited Communist youth to the White House as her guests.

Grange Hall To Be Dedicated Aug. 17

The new Grange Hall, a credit to the city, is nearing completion, and will be the scene of an opening dance Saturday night, August 17. A wonderful time is promised, and a large attendance is hoped for to help initiate the building. Music will be by Mike Weatherby's Orchestra from Healdsburg, which will play for dancing from 9 until 2 a. m. Admission is $1.00 per couple, and excellent refreshments will be furnished at nominal cost. Remember the date August 17, at the fine new Grange Hall south of town.

BENEFIT DANCE

Homewood Grove will be the scene of a benefit dance and barbecue to be staged by Redwood Valley Fire Department, Sunday, September 1.

Music will be by Cliff Iversen's Band.

MEET TONIGHT

The regular meeting of St. Mary's Sodality will be held Wednesday evening (tonight) at the home of Mrs. Josephine Shultz on Main Street.

Mrs. Rex Parker visited her son, Charles, last week-end in San Jose,, in which city the latter is employed, and will soon register for his second year at San Jose State.

"So the People May Know"

THAT PRISON AT CHINO

A crusader was appointed on the State Prison Board after Governor Culbert L. Olson had ousted the regular board and that worthy has broken into San Francisco newspapers—it is noticeable four other men, who happen to be gentlemen and are on the board, do not join in the untruths one of the board resorts to. This sensationalist, with one aim only—to get his own name in the newspapers—has already been "sat upon" by the more sound-thinking board members. It was this worthy who insisted there should be a clean sweep of all prison officials, regardless of their efficiency. He it was who had a candidate for Warden of San Quentin, whose apparent only qualification for the job was he held the friendship of the erratic San Franciscan. This new man is establishing a record for suggesting remedies for reforms about which he knows nothing and it takes the other members of the board about all their time devising excuses, (without wounding his sensibilities), for doing something else. The new board will find in the limited time it will be in office, the regular Prison Board has done an excellent work and the prison at Chino, which is objected to by the fault-finding member of the irregular board—because it is built "too much like a fortress"—is everything it should be. It has been built on lines of federal requirements; the costs have been kept within the budget of construction, all the work has been done under State Architect, and it is in reality what it was intended to be—a prison.

A. R. O'Brien

There are no solariums in it. Ping pong rooms are not provided. Nor have tile swimming pools been built, but walls have been erected to keep escaping offenders from over-running the countryside. Ample water storage is there; the best of sanitation has been arranged; a great farm is enclosed with anti-riot fence and light, ventilation and room for the most modern expansion have been built into the Southern California Prison.

In years to come the Chino prison will stand as a monument to men who were honest and served on a prison board and refused to knuckle to a radical Governor who seemed to seek to have operated in the prison a springboard from which prisoners, who had outside political influence, could flip-flop to freedom over imaginary walls.

The legal board of prison directors of California will not apologize one iota for the Chino penitentiary, because there is no cause to do so.

COAST FACES INCREASE OF SEASON'S HOPS

Oregon Meeting Assures Fight Has Been Won

A 4,000 BALE JUMP

Harvest Will Not Be Enough To Meet Demand

It will be interesting to Ukiah valley hop growers to know Oregon Hop growers last week approved the hop control board's decision establishing the salable quantity of 1940 crops in the three coast states at 4,000 bales more than the expected harvest.

To Safeguard Surplus

Witnesses testifying at a U.S. Department of Agriculture hearing said the policy would take care of a possible surplus.

Europe Is Out

Several hop dealers asserted there might not be enough domestic hops to satisfy the demand, since the European war has cut off hop imports into the United States. They said some American hops might be exported to countries which have been dependent on European supplies.

Another Meeting Soon

A similar hearing will be held in Santa Rosa.

Raid Is On For San Quentin Jobs

(Herbert W. Slater In The Press Democrat)

Believe it or not, the job of prison guard is still very popular, as indicated by the continuing number of callers at the office seeking a letter of endorsement for the position. There is a great waiting list of applicants in the warden's office at San Quentin. A very careful selection is made of the men for this job. The appointment of a new warden at San Quentin is still in the hands of Governor Olson and his new prison board. By the way, the third district court of appeals at Sacramento has granted A. R. O'Brien a review of the proceedings leading up to the ouster by Governor Olson of the old prison board. The outcome of all this is awaited with considerable interest.

Mrs. M. D. Exley, Mrs. Richard Exley, and Mrs. J. Hayes were here from Willits Friday.

COAST PARKS ARE GETTING FEDERAL HELP

Beautification Of Van Damme's Is Starting

STAIRWAY IS PLANNED

A Ten Acre Beach Playground Now Arranged For

Valley folk will be delighted to know the Mendocino coast is being provided excellent park facilities by the Federal government, acting in connection with the State Park system. Word from Mendocino, carried in The Mendocino Beacon, is with the reoccupancy of the Russian Gulch CCC camp with a strength of 182 enrollees, work has resumed on the improvement and development of Russian Gulch and Van Damme parks.

To Construct Fords

The CCC, working in co-ordination with the California State Park administration, has mapped a three-month improvement plan which includes the building of summer dry fords at nine points across Little River between the lower and upper camp grounds of Van Damme park. Culverts installed beneath each ford will carry the water during the summer months eliminating the present hazard created by wet brakes and a possible stalling when crossing the stream by automobile.

Repairing Building

In addition, the Van Damme park recreation building is being repaired and improved and soon will be ready for public use. The plan also provides for clearing and improvement of ten acres of public beach at the mouth of Little River.

One Of A Few

The beach at Van Damme is one of the very few beaches along Highway No. 1 open to public use. Prior to the birth of the CCC, an attempt was made to construct a timber dam across the mouth of Little River to form a fresh water swimming pool but the winter storms broke the wall.

Under the present project the remaining parts of the timber dam are to be removed and earthen abutments are to be obliterated. Cleanup of driftwood and scattered rocks along the beach will make this area more

DUTIES HOLDING CONGRESSMAN C. F. LEA – HE CAN'T CAMPAIGN

Representative Makes Statement — Outlines The Position He Has Followed And Says What He Will Do

Congressman C. F. Lea, for many years the Representative of this District in Congress has been attending to his duties in Washington, and, so far, has had little time for his campaign for re-election.

Makes Position Clear

The following is one of a few brief statements Mr. Lea has addressed to the voters of the District as to his candidacy:

"Congress has been in session many months. The work here has been such it has given me little opportunity for attention to my campaign for re-election. The distance of California from the Nation's Capital, and the importance of the work in Congress at this time, have prevented me from making contacts over my district, such as I would make as a matter of course under ordinary circumstances.

Could Not Be Here

"I trust that my absence from the district will be understood. It has been a necessity of duty, and not a matter of indifference to my re-election, or lack of gratitude for the rare opportunity you have given me of representing you in the national legislature for 24 years. It would be presumptious of me, or any other candidate for an office of such importance, to ask your support as a personal favor. Your interest in the welfare of a Nation of 130,000,000 people is involved in the selection of your Representative to the Congress. In times like these, in proportion to the importance of having our District well represented, the petty ambitions of us candidates are of little consequence.

Worked For All

"In my first campaign 24 years ago I stated I had no promises to make except to give our State and Country a constructive service to the best of my ability.

"I have served 12 years under Republican Presidents and 12 years under Democratic Presidents. The service I have given under each has been fundamentally the same.

"I have approached the important problems of the Nation from the standpoint of their merit rather than political convenience.

"My years in Congress have been busy years. As to District matters, I have given my active attention to countless matters of interest to thousands of our people and to numerous other matters of importance to various communities. I will not attempt to catalogue these activities.

None Were Slighted

"I am not aware of a single industry in our District for which I have not given active attention in connection with some legislative or administrative phase of the Federal Government. Agriculture and industries of our District, mining, stock raising, and lumbering have all had their problems.

Played No Favorite

NO FRAUD IN SILVER'S CASE

Court Sets Aside Verdict Of The Jurors

The long, bitter litigation between Louis L. Silver and Bank of America and California Lands ended in a judgment, notwithstanding the verdict of the jury charging the Bank of America and California Lands Inc. with fraud and malice. The judgment was ordered by the Court Saturday morning.

No Fraud Shown

In ordering the judgment, the Court said there was no evidence introduced to show fraud as charged by Mr. Silver. The Court ordered judgment not withstanding the verdict on the motion of Preston & Gibson, attorneys for the Bank of America and California Lands Inc.

Story Of The Case

Louis L. Silver had rented what is known as the "Ford Ranch" from the California Lands Inc., and the lease provided, if a sale was made, Mr. Silver should vacate the ranch in 60 days. The California Lands Inc. claimed it had sold the ranch to Victor Lagomarsino of San Francicso, and gave Mr. Silver 60 days notice to move. Mr. Silver refused to move and the California Lands brought an action to eject him. This action was non-suited because, at the time of bringing the same a legal and binding sale had not been made, so the court ruled. Mr. Silver then sued the Bank of America and the California Lands for damages in bringing this suit—claiming he had been damaged in looking for another ranch and that the suit and notice were fraudulent and maliciously done and asked for large exemplary damages. Mr. Silver also claimed the California Lands had not built the dairy barn as agreed and was, therefore, damaged in the sum of $1881.60 loss of profits from his dairy business. The jury awarded him this amount, but a motion for a new trial may be made, to set aside this award upon the ground there is no legal evidence to support it. The court will decide this issue later.

Must Quit Ranch

The California Lands, after perfecting its sale to Mr. Lagomarsino again notified Mr. Silver of the sale and asked him to vacate the ranch within 60 days, which he again refused to do, and the court rendered judgment Thursday to the effect Mr. Silver must vacate the ranch within ten days.

MODEL T. RACE HOLDS CROWDS

Excitement For Fans Certain In Events At The Fair

Sharp competition promises to be the keynote of the Model T races to be run at the Fair Ground Sunday, August 25. This championship of the world classic has grown in interest each year, and already a number of fast entries have been made representing various northern California sections.

After Santa Rosa

Local drivers are gunning for the Santa Rosa boys this time, as it was one of the latter, Don Kellogg, who carried the trophy out of the county in 1939. Rivalry always adds spice to any contest, and a Model T race is no exception, so be prepared for a lively exhibition to take place closing day of the Twelfth District Agricultural Fair. Races start promptly at one o'clock.

THE ISSUE IS DRAWN

(By Boake Carter)

WERE THERE ANY GENUINE justification for smashing one of the strongest traditions in American history, there might be some faint excuse for what happened at Chicago.

Had the Republicans put up a weak sister who was an obvious palpable hack, or say—a man without any kind of experience whatsoever, the general situation might have been different.

People might have had reason to say that perhaps, for the sake of the United States, it might be better to let Mr. Roosevelt remain as President four more years.

But there was not this excuse. The Republicans put up an excellent candidate. Furthermore, he had the additional attribute of not being a politician, but a man of business and organizational training. These are qualifications people are seeking in the Chief Executive for the next four years.

In addition, Mr. Willkie's foreign policy statements have not been such as to lead any one in the country to believe he would move in the exact opposite direction in which Mr. Roosevelt has been traveling. The basic difference, however, between Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Willkie is that the former believes the state should take over the function of business, whereas the latter believes that the Government should give encouragement to private enterprise for the purpose of creating jobs and prosperity.

This column sincerely believed Mr. Roosevelt, pondering earnestly these matters and having held himself up so often as the great American, custodian of the Nation's welfare, rather than a mere political boss of a political party, would never consent to run; would turn down the nomination. This column gave Mr. Roosevelt the credit of his own oft proclaimed sense of deep patriotism. It admittedly has consistently disagreed with a great many of his policies. But it felt, in the great and final analysis, he would think first of the Nation, and, second, of himself.

Like many others, we are wrong. We credited Mr. Roosevelt with a too genuine spirit of service to the Nation. The discovery that the idol is clay completes this writer's disillusionment of President Roosevelt. And that, after four years of believing in him, from 1932-1936.

The horrifying thing, however, is discovery that Mr. Roosevelt is quite willing to play with them, plunge the Nation into a bitter controversy over the third term issue for the next three months and cause, thereby, a violent disunity among people at the very time when unity is needed.

Whatever the vestige of symbolism Mr. Roosevelt may have possessed, whatever the legendary aura of greatness that may have surrounded him, it has vanished. He is just another politician who, when the time of the hardest test of his greatness arrived, could not place country ahead of his own personal ambition. It is the deadly stone over which many near great men of history have stumbled into the discard.

The simple fact of the matter is that one of the greatest traditions of the United States, as well as one of its greatest unwritten safeguards, was tossed into the discard at Chicago for two specific reasons:

The New Dealers wanted their jobs for another four years.

Mr. Roosevelt wanted power for another four years.

The jobholders wanted President Roosevelt, despite his third term handicap, because they were afraid they couldn't win without Roosevelt. Without him they knew they couldn't keep their jobs.

All that they are most concerned about is that they win the election—even if it means ruining the United States.

The mercenary little clique of revolutionaries—Hopkins, Ickes, Corcoran, Cohen, et al,—which ran the convention hope to have four more years of turning the United States into an ism of their own peculiar creation. It might be state socialism. It might be state capitalism. It might even be totalitarianism. But the delegates didn't realize—perhaps they didn't care—what kind of fires of hell they were lighting for the United States. All they saw was that Roosevelt represented to them the largest number of votes to keep them where they were. They saw him as their meal ticket—and to hell with America.

It is little short of tragic that the President had neither the courage nor the forthrightness to follow the example of spiritual and moral integrity established by every President of the United States and reject the nomination.

He himself has talked at length about the need for national unity in this great crisis confronting the country. Through his weakness, his vanity, his love of power and personal conviction that none but himself is capable of steering America through these hours of crisis, he has declined to spare the Nation a bitter campaign over an unprecedented and unnecessary issue.

IN THE LAP OF THE GODS

THAT THE GREATEST UNCERTAINTY exists regarding the outcome of the election in November everyone agrees. Certainly no Democrat could win, other than Franklin D. Roosevelt. He, alone, stands a chance and Mr. Roosevelt's sole vote getting strength lies in the fact he has a public-provided war chest of billions at his command—the United States treasury. The only thing that can possibly re-elect Roosevelt is the vote of the millions on relief. That vote, very probably will go to him, because those receiving dole now will want to remain on relief rolls and be supported by the public.

His apparent avowed intention to plunge us into war. His unreasonable demands to force men into military service. His open demand he be made a dictator and his selection of two Republican war mongers as Secretary of the Navy and Secretary of War has driven thousands of thinking Democrats from the party.

Down in Oklahoma the other day a peculiar development along political lines took place when The Daily Oklahoman, the State's leading Democratic newspaper, came out for Willkie. In giving reason for deserting Roosevelt The Oklahoman said:

"Willkie is a great thinker and a keen analyst. He wins his debates by sheer logic, backed up by facts. His statements are straightforward direct to the point without camouflage. While he enjoys a debate, yet is more than a great orator, a great lawyer or a great businessman. He has a profound knowledge of all of the affairs of the country—economic, political and social. He believes in the democratic process, not in a dictatorial, one-man government. He has truly said that in a nation of 130,000,000 people no one man is indispensable.

"Willkie is not a politician. The politicians of the Republican party did everything they could to prevent his nomination. It was the rank and file of the people who demanded his nomination and forced it through the convention against the opposition of nearly all the old line Republican wheel horses. This is the first time in a century when the people have had an opportunity to select a man to the presidency who is not and never has been a politician. He is truly a people's candidate.

"Willkie is a man of splendid physique, of exceptional intelligence, of kindly, straight-forward manner and of charming, appealing personality. He will appeal to the common citizen because he is one of them and he has never lost touch of the commonplace. Nevertheless, he is at home among captains of industry and he can match his wits with the best legal minds in America. His integrity, energy and ability are unquestioned. He will restore order to the conflicting confusion and chaos in Washington.

"We believe Wendell Willkie will be elected and he will have the support of tens of thousands of Democrats in Oklahoma as well as in every other state. The Oklahoman and Times will support him."

To Get Stairs

The dream of a system of stairs from the highway down to Agate beach may become a reality through the consistent efforts of A. H. Pilcher, auto court owner. Mr. Pilcher, in a conference with Project Superintendent Millson, of the CCC camp, explained the necessity of such project because of the increasing popularity of the scenic spot. Mr. Millson expressed his interest and agreed to present the plan to Dan R. Hull, State Park authority, for further consideration. In its present state, the path leading to Agate beach is dangerous and inadequate, but this apparently has not stopped the flow of both tourists and local people.

Politics Forgotten

In legislation where the interests of California have been concerned, whether affecting our industries or our people, politics has not been a consideration. In recent years as Dean of the California Delegation of 20 Members, I have called its meetings and encouraged every possible cooperation of our members for the benefit of the State. With limited exceptions the Members of our Delegation, regardless of party, have worked together for the good of our State.

For Peoples Good

"An especial responsibility rests upon the party in power to legislate for the Nation. In national affairs I have likewise followed a constructive course. Regardless of the political complexion of such party, I have given it constructive service in supporting, or trying to improve any legislation I believed to be for the best interests of the country. I have desired to make our laws useful and successful regardless of the political leadership under which they may be enacted.

How He Works

"I have never attempted to attach any particular title to any political philosophy I may represent, such as a 'New Dealer,' a 'Radical,' a 'Liberal,' a 'Conservative,' or a 'Progressive.' I am always in favor of the improvement of government whether by legislation or administration. I have no objection to a proposal for the improvement of government because it is new. I prefer, however, that before approving such proposals they be supported by good judgment and experience as being calculated to serve the best interests of the Nation. I do not support anything simply because of the label it may correctly or incorrectly happen to bear."

Letters To The Editor

August 5, 1940

Mr. A. R. O'Brien,
Care of Ukiah Republican-Press,
Ukiah, California

My Dear Mr. O'Brien:

Knowing of your interest in preserving the splendid grove of Redwoods known as Montgomery Woods, I am writing to you to ask if, in your opinion, there is any possibility of getting favorable consideration by the Golden Gate Bridge directors for a memorial in that area to honor the late Joseph B. Strauss.

I have noticed at various times publicity regarding a $10,000 fund which has been voted by the Bridge directors with the idea of using this amount for a memorial statue to be placed at the entrance to the bridge span.

It has occurred to me that, since—as has been stressed by others in the press—the bridge itself stands as a supreme monument to its creator, he needs no other man - made monument. But, as a token of appreciation for Joseph Strauss' contribution and honoring him, what more fitting tribute could be paid him than to dedicate in his name a grove of giant Redwoods? Such an ever-living memorial would be an ideal choice as Mr. Strauss so loved these giant trees.

A simple bronze tablet telling of this memorial could be placed at the entrance to the bridge span—the bridge which leads to the Redwood Highway and thence to the Montgomery Woods — and another inexpensive marker of stone could be placed within the grove. It might be that Mr. Strauss' well-known poem on the Redwoods could be quoted, either in whole or in part, on the bridge tablet or the stone in the grove.

Any suggestions you care to give, in connection with this memorial idea, would be helpful. If there is any prospect of securing approval by the Directors of such a memorial, the League would be only too glad to get in touch with them and to go into the matter fully, offering to negotiate with the owners of the area and to give every other aid within its power to carry out the successful establishment of Montgomery Woods as "The Joseph B. Strauss Memorial Grove."

Very sincerely yours,
NEWTON B. DRURY,

Sidelights of Sadness

Being incidents connected with California's State Prisons as observed by A. R. O'Brien, editor of The Republican Press, while chairman of the State Board of Prisons of California.

A MAN WHO KNEW WHEN HIS HOUR WOULD COME

I met him in condemned row. He spoke to me when I passed his cell. As I looked him over I was sure he was a paisano of mine. He had that leather-like skin a man gets when he has been on the Staked Plains between New Mexico and Texas or on the snow in Alaska. "Ever been in Texas or Alaska," I asked him. "Sure, I used to live in both them places," he replied. He was an aged and broken man and it took no alienist to tell one the old fellow was insane, but he was friendless.

He asked me about men he had known, down on the Pan Handle and up in Alaska. Some had been mutual acquaintances but most of them were dead. When I told him those he asked about no longer lived, his eyes went to a calendar on the wall of his cell and, as my glance followed his, I observed the calender for the month of July had a heavy black border around the box that had the nineteenth day of that month in its center, but I dismissed the incident from mind. "Well," he said, "I guessed all of them would be gone by now. A fellow only has so long to live," he continued and, as he ceased speaking his eyes again reverted to the marked calendar above his bunk. "It does not fall to many a fellow to be able to tell just when he is going to die," were the words that floated to my ears as I left the vicinity of his cell and continued my rounds on my visit to other condemned men. What had such an aged man done to be in such a sorry spot? I wondered and, my curiosity, getting the best of me, I hunted up his narrative.

He was in his seventy-second year and he had killed two men and, peculiarly, both of them had been bank employes. Down in San Diego he waylaid the janitor of a bank. Getting into the janitor's car the old fellow jammed a gun into the janitor's side and ordered him to drive to a park where, in a secluded spot, he shot and killed his victim. The old man had seen the janitor open the door of the bank a few days before and thus knew he carried the keys. The murderer took the keys from the body of the janitor, returned and entered the bank and waited in a room off the bank lobby. He was discovered by the manager of the institution when he came to work, and, following a tussle with the bank official, who managed to turn in an alarm, was captured by police.

After the murderer had been at San Quentin a few weeks, San Francisco detectives, checking fingerprints, identified the killer as Robert Clarke Perry, an old Alaska miner who went north in the '98 rush, as the man who killed Joe Marenco, a bank watchman who was murdered in 1937 in an attempted bank robbery in San Francisco.

Three weeks later I picked up a San Francisco newspaper and I read Robert Clarke Perry had been put to death in the gas chamber that morning. He was the oldest man who had been executed at San Quentin, the paper said. Back to my mind came that June evening I had talked with the old man in condemned row at San Quentin. I saw again his furtive glances at the calender which had the date "July 19" blocked out. I looked at the newspaper I was reading, the date was July 19—. "No, old man," I said to myself, as I recalled the words he spoke that summer evening twilight — "It does not fall to many a fellow to be able to tell just when he is going to die—but, old timer, you who had been in the remote places I, too, had roamed over—you were one of them."

FREE

On August 27 and on November 5 many of you will receive something very precious—Free.

Preciousness depends upon how much a thing is desired.

The American people, almost unanimously, want: To see unemployment relieved (10 millions now unemployed), to see the farmer receive fair prices (farm income 1 billion a year less than average for 1926-1932); the United States to have an adequate national defense, the United States to have a balanced budget—and the national debt to be reduced, taxes to be within reason, and for our people to have a higher standard of living.

We know—positively—that the "New Deal" has not given us these things nor many other things we desire.

Therefore, we should be happy that one precious thing is still FREE—the right to vote. We certainly will NOT vote for the organization that has failed in eight long years to give us what we want.

VOTE FOR THE REPUBLICAN BUSINESS MAN — NOT FOR A POLITICIAN.

An Al Fresco Feast

In social circles, Mrs. Earl Long tops the list of entertaining for the week at her charming "Sunset Ranch" retreat, Wednesday last, featuring berbecued ham. The Long's were hosts to 20 friends. Under shaded oaks the dinner was served at a long table. Guests included the very happy newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Long, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Motander, Donald Motander, Oakland; E. A. Gravier, Mrs. Ann Matushek, who is a house guest of E. A. Gravier from St. Louis and cousin of the late Mrs. Gravier; Carl Lilly, San Francisco, guest of his brother, Leonard; J. Rossi, Dr. W. P. Gennochio, San Francisco. Other guests numbered friends from San Jose and pretty Miss Lorraine Dyer, who is Mrs. Long's assistant for the warm days hostessing.

A Birthday Dinner

Another occasion was the Saturday birthday dinner feting Miss Dyer. Invitations were issued to fifteen of the young set.

A Venison Treat

Sunday, the Longs hosted a venison roast to another group, including Miss Barbara Hunt, up from U. C., Miss Dorothy Hunt, home from Arcata State College, Chas. Hunt and the H. C. Tuttles. Chinese checkers proved most fun through the evening.

Some Minor Matters

Gleanings of the week's brief items are:

Among them were the President and Secretary, two delegates and their alternates and three members of the executive board. A great deal of benefit to the local chapter is derived from attendance at these meetings.

At the Wiley English residence, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Saunders, Mrs. Elvin Caldwell and Mrs. C. M. Bailey have been guests from San Francisco. Remaining for another week are Mr. and Mrs. Eldon English of Los Gatos.

At Gravier Home

In New Home

The Rolland Browns' have moved into their new residence, the interior of which is not entirely completed but "time" will find them cozily quartered.

Longs For California

For two weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Osborne and son, Everett, have been house guests at the L. B. English's. The trio motored west from Fredericksburg, Virginia, traveling the northern route. "Jim" is a native of Round Valley, but has lived on the Atlantic Coast since the World War, married there and has a handsome seventeen-year-old son. Visiting with him, you soon learn he is hungry for his native state and no doubt he will remain in these parts.

Had Nice Trip

Climaxing a delightful two weeks sojourn at Palo Alto, as guest of the J. L. Willets, attractive Miss Alberta Barnes was at San Jose, Santa Cruz and in San Francisco saw the fleeting rhythm of the 1940 Ice Follies.

Saw War Sights

Farrell McCarthy, Harry Jennings, Oakland, and Roy Dobbins, a companion from Arkansas, have been a party of deer shooters camped at Pine Flat. Farrell, who is equally at home on the high seas, just returned on the President Pierce from the Philippines, Yokohama, and the other far-eastern seaports. At Hong-kong he passed through the mine fields and saw the German vessels interned in Japanese waters.

Talked To Vineyardists

Senator G. M. Biggar was first guest speaker at the Grape Growers fine picnic last week.

He May Build

Henry Prising, who passes much time from San Francisco at the E. A. Gravier ranch, talks of building on the old Prising lot on the corner of Greeley and Perry streets, possibly a real estate office, however the fine lot, long a dirty eye-sore, has been cleared and cleaned and the work finds favor with everyone.

Reported Recovering

To Go East

Mrs. J. S. Rohrbugh, Mrs. Nora Rodebaugh and J. D. Rohrbough are in San Francisco prior to Mrs. Rodebaugh's return East following a year's pleasant associations here.

A Popular Lad

Travis McColloch, who is one of the most wide-awake and entertaining six-year-old youngsters about, is in demand. Last week he was a guest in the Dr. J. E. Mooy residence at Nice. This week finds him a guest of Miss Ann Anderson on Mad River. Miss Anderson is a Trinity ranch owner, teaches in that district and is an aunt of the popular tennis champion, Helen Wills Moody. Travis is getting his first classroom education too, but he's missed in the neighborhood. Miss Anderson was an overnight guest in the McColloch household Sunday. Her chauffeur was Bob Hill.

Oakland Visitors

Riding Is Rough

On the Covelo and Sacramento Valley road at Mendocino Pass, Solon English is doing well, catering to sportsmen, who like good hunting and fishing. He is equipped with horses and guides. Last week James and Everett Osborne of Fredericksburg, Virginia and Byron English of Healdsburg tried the shooting and saddle horses at this camp. They had luck, but as I called for this item, I found the Virginia boys dining from the mantelpiece.

In Town Short Time

In from the Travis Trinity ranch, Wm. McColloch enjoyed a brief stay at the family residence on Howard street.

At Fortuna, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Osborne are guests of the Frank Dunns' for a month.

Fines Are Suspended

In Judge G. R. Redwine's court, Walter Larson, Ned Waurandon, C. Nardi and Mrs. Winifred Meisner, all of San Francisco were fined $10 with suspended sentences for technicalities in regard to properly filling out deer tags. Game Warden Floyd Loots of Willits made the arrests.

The party dined under the soft candle glow and they danced to the music of Wm. Southerland and H. C. Tuttle.

Picnic On Sunday

Sunday, August 18th, is the time the Willits Fire Department will have its picnic and barbecue at Quadrio Park. The committee in charge has arranged for amusements for young and old and a splendid time is guaranteed. There will be a nominal charge of only 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children, which will barely cover the cost of the barbecued meat and other expenses. Everybody is invited.

A movement is now being made to have the State finish what it started several years ago when Main street was widened to 100 feet from the Fort Bragg railroad track to the southern limits. At that time fences were moved back to conform to the new street line and the intervening space has since grown up with grass and weeds. The State was to pave it.

Miss Doris Sagehorn of Berkeley has been selected as maid-of-honor, and George Bartlett will act as best man at the ceremony to be performed by Rev. Elbert Holland. The attractive bride-elect is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sagehorn of Lake County, former Ukiah residents and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Coble of this city. She has lived here most of her life, attending local schools and making many friends in the community. For the past two years Miss Sagehorn has been in Willits, but recently returned to make her home in Ukiah once more. Mr. Bradshaw, owner of the Ukiah Sheet Metal Works, is well known here, also, and the popular pair have the good wishes of many. A two-weeks honeymoon trip will follow the wedding, and upon their return the couple will make their home at 630 South Oak Street.

AT LAUREL DELL

Among guests at Laurel Dell Lodge Saturday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sandelin, who enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Peck, at an entertaining series of events, which included a ride on the "Show Boat" which takes parties on a tour of the lake, and is a delight to all who make the excursion. A Treasure hunt was next on the program, and much amusement enjoyed by several groups who participated in the follow-up clues leading to an attractive prize. The most merry event of the evening was the "horse" race, with human streeds charging down the stretch.

OVER FROM CAPITAL

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schilder who are here from Sacramento as guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Davis, motored to Blue Lakes Friday evening in company with Chaplin Williams, Richard Davis and William Kehoe to enjoy a picnic supper and swimming party.

FORMER RESIDENTS VISIT

Welcomed here by friends were Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Cannon who arrived Saturday from Turlock to pass three days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Weber. Among the round of parties arranged for them was a delightful dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Albertson. Mr. Cannon was formerly manager of the local J. C. Penney store, and during their six years of residence in Ukiah, prior to Mr. Cannon's transfer to the Turlock store, he and his charming wife were most active in social and club affairs.

SAID FAREWELL

During Mrs. T. M. Cleland's absence in Long Beach, her sister and niece, Mrs. Sadie Roeder of San Mateo, and Miss Isabel Roeder of Crescent City are at Mrs. Cleland's home here. Last week the two ladies went to San Francisco to bid good-bye to Mrs. Roeder's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Murdoch Roeder, of Crescent City, when they left via plane for a vacation trip to New York City.

AT CONVENTION

At a meeting of Northern California District No. 1 of 20-30 Clubs, Frank Branson was elected sub-district Governor. Twelve clubs attended the meet held recently in Healdsburg, and from here went Mr. and Mrs. Harley Branson, Miss Donna Hasty, Frank Branson, Ernest Wing, G. G. Grant, Marion Hodel, and George Hengeveld. District No. 1 is comprised of twelve clubs in the region between Ukiah and Sausalito.

SAW SONS—DAUGHTERS

Mrs. E. H. Benson has returned following an absence in the east since the first of June. Mrs. Benson's trip took her first to St. Charles, Mo., where she attended commencement at Lindenwood College, of which her daughter, Dr. Mary Benson is a faculty member. At Ann Arbor time was passed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Benson, and at Baltimore Mrs. Benson visited Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Batchelder, proceeding from there to East Orange, N. J., where a daughter resides. Mrs. Benson was also a guest of her son, Dirck Benson and family in Albany, N. Y.

SAW PITIFUL BACKWASH OF CONFLICT

Five wonderful weeks of travel and recreation have just passed for Miss Lorraine Pike, who returned to Ukiah Thursday morning. More than a month ago she left here to journey as far as Nova Scotia to visit relatives and friends not seen for many years. Brief tours of Montreal and Toronto were enjoyed en route, but the most delightful part of the entire trip, according to Miss Pike, was the boat ride down the St. Lawrence River, through the enchanting Thousand Islands, where some of the most beautiful homes are to be seen—homes almost castle-like in appearance; many belonging to Americans who have been charmed by the Islands. Shooting the rapids, for which the St. Lawrence is famous, was a fascinating experience of the journey. The Maritime Provinces, particularly beautiful at this time of year, presented a picture of cool greenery to the western traveler, used to our brown hills in summer. In Nova Scotia, where a week was passed, Miss Pike enjoyed fishing and hunting, the former of which sports is especially fine in that vicinity. The French Canadian residents were most engaging and their viewpoints on the situation in Europe were highly interesting; Miss Pike states they are philosophical, and accepting whatever hardships the war has imposed on them in good spirit. Many war refugees were encountered; all expressing great joy at the peace found on this continent, and the warm welcome tendered them. In Montreal Miss Pike was present when a boatload of refugee children arrived, and many people were on hand to open lovely homes to them, and give them excellent care. Taking leave of the beautiful French-Canadian country, and returning westward, Miss Pike stopped off at Salt Lake where she passed a week with friends before continuing to Grass Valley, to visit her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Mark Pike. Concluding a week's stay there, she returned to Ukiah, treasuring the recollections of her varied and fascinating vacation experiences.

REUNION IN IDAHO

A joyful family reunion took place last week when Mr. and Mrs. Wade Burger, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Erickson, motored to Idaho Fals, for a visit at the home of Mrs. Christine Johnson, mother of the two ladies in the party. The occasion was the 75th birthday of Mrs. Johnson, and the day was made particularly happy for her by the family gathering.

AWAITS PARENTS RETURN

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Pearson, of Larkspur, were here last week, en route to Portland on a combined business and pleasure trip. Their daughter, Miss Barbara, accompanied them to Ukiah, and will remain as guest of Miss Arzele Dennen until her parents return from the north. Thursday and Friday the two girls enjoyed an outing at Blue Lakes.

AN EVENING'S OUTING

Many Ukiah people find Blue Lakes most inviting these warm summer evenings, and among those going from here to picnic and swim at the resort during the week was a party composed of Messrs and Mesdames A. Bechtol, Percy Ornbaun, T. Gerhart and others.

Members of the unit unanimously approved a resolution calling for a revision of membership eligibility rules for the Junior Legion Auxiliary. The proposed change eliminates the provision the applicant's father must be a member of the American Legion and calls only for honorable service with the United States military forces during the World War. The resolution, originating with the local unit, will be submitted next week at the state convention in San Diego.

Mrs. Fannie Knewbow was elected to take the place of a previously elected delegate and alternate to the state convention who have found it impossible to attend. Mrs. Knewbow, Miss Alta Dillingham and Mrs. Faas will leave Saturday night from San Francisco for the San Diego conclave.

Members of the unit were urged to take an active interest in the work and activities of the Red Cross, particularly at this period when the organization is being called upon for extended services.

In outlining activities for the coming months, the unit agreed upon a program calling for a series of food sales, dances, card parties and a tea.

Those named to the standing committees were:

Americanism and national defense, Mrs. Buelah Messick.

Community service, motion pictures and books, Mrs. Frema Mathews.

AN EASTERN MOTOR TRIP

(By Olive E. Busch)

The interesting Travelogue written by Mrs. Olive E. Busch was concluded last week at Nicholson, Penna., the old home of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Snyder, of this city. This week the story takes the reader on to more eastern places of interest:

On arriving at Nicholson, the travelers went immediately to the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Oakley. The Oakleys have five children. The Oakleys live on the farm formerly owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Snyder. During May and June, the Snyders visited friends and relatives throughout Pennsylvania, the middle Atlantic States and New England. Miss Daisy Rodgers visited with her sister, Mrs. Carrie Hill, at her home in Binghamton, N. Y., and at her summer cottage at Laurel Lake in northern Pennsylvania. Laurel Lake was the birthplace and early home of Miss Rodgers. Her father was married twice and she is one of his 12 children. Of that large family only she and Mrs. Hill now survive. Miss Rodgers enjoyed a few days in New York City where she attended the Fair and a couple of weeks with relatives and friends in Connecticut.

During the two months we were in the east, I spent 12 days in Washington, D. C., and New York and the rest of the time at Nicholson, Pennsylvania. For more than a month I boarded with Mr. Snyder's sister, Mrs. Grace Brank, a very charming woman and her two attractive daughters, the Misses Rhea and Iris May Brink. Miss Rhea Brink is a college graduate and a registered nurse, but who now conducts a successful insurance business with offices in her own home. Miss Iris May Brink graduated from the Scranton-Lackawanna College with the 46th annual class of 225 members June 26. I attended the impressive graduation ceremonies held in the magnificent Masonic Temple at Scranton, with Dr. F. W. Maroney of Columbia University as speaker.

I saw Mr. Snyder's mother, Mrs. Hartiet A. Snyder, nearly every day for many weeks. She is 86 years of age and is very active both mentally and physically. She has a keen mind, a fine sense of humor, and is an entertaining conversationalist. She had eight children, four boys and four girls, thirty-four grand children, and fifty-two great-grandchildren. I was a guest at the Mothers' Day dinner held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Oakley with four generations of grown persons present, including Mr. Snyder; his mother, Mrs. Harriet A. Snyder; his daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Oakley, and her 17-year-old son, Niles, whose birthday it happened to be. There was a beautiful card for every mother present. The dinner dessert was ice cream made from cream from their own dairy and frozen with ice which they had cut from the pond and stored up for summer use. The Oakleys have a large Holstein dairy herd and ship the milk to New York City. After dinner we took a long ride through the verdant countryside. We saw the birthplace of Mr. Snyder and that of his father, Newel Snyder, which were on adjacent farms in Susquehanna county. We passed many school houses where Mr. Snyder had taught and the Lenox grange where he was initiated as a Patron of Husbandry forty-eight years ago. Lenox Grange celebrated the 50th anniversary of the date of its organization at a chicken supper and tree-planting ceremonial on June 21. Mr. Snyder was Master of the Nicholson Grange three terms and was a delegate to the Pennsylvania State Grange twice.

At Forebears' Graves

In the Nicholson cemetery, which is beautifully located on a series of rolling, grass-covered hills, bordered by an evergreen forest, we visited the graves of Mr. Snyder's father, Newell Snyder, and that of his grandfather, Horace Snyder. The graves are marked by tall, pink, granite monuments. Horace Snyder came to Pennsylvania from New York state and his father was one of four Snyder brothers who came from Holland. We also visited the graves in this cemetery of Mrs. Iola Squier, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Snyder, and of Mrs. Helen Niver, Mrs. Snyder's mother. We often met and talked with Mr. Snyder's two brothers, Otto Snyder, of Nicholson, and Louis Snyder of Clarks' Summit, both of whom were school teacherss in their young life. We visited Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Squier, parents of C. B. Squier, of Ukiah, and the grand daughters, the Misses Dorothy and Doris Squier, sisters of Romayne Squier of Ukiah. We also called on C. B. Squier's sister, Mildred, who lives with her young husband and his mother on a highly-improved dairy farm. We later visited Romayne Squier's two other sisters, Kathryn and Eileen Squier, who live with their father, Rexford Squier and his brother, Everett and family in Maryland. I made the acquaintance of Rexford Squier, Romayne Squier's father, when he came up to Nicholson on a business trip. We made a special pilgrimage to Mrs. Snyder's birthplace, which is a beautiful country home in Factoryvile. The house sets back a little distance from the road and a double row of maple trees lead up to it. In the beautful Factoryville cemetery, we visited Mrs. Snyder's father's grave which is marked by a large, pink, granite monument. We passed the Keystone Seminary building, a window of which was donated by Mrs. Snyder. We saw the former home of Christie Matheson, whose mother was Mrs. Snyder's cousin. We visited Mrs. Snyder's sisters, Mrs. Electa Warner of Nicholson and Mrs. Minnie Stark of Easton.

A Great Dairy

We inspected the Demonstration Dairy at Dalton, belonging to the International Correspondence School at Scranton. We saw about 100 fine Holstein cows that were kept in a modern dairy barn and were cared for scientificaly. Supt. Henry Brecht said there was one cow there that had not been out of her stall for 16 years. C. B. Squier worked at this farm for nine years before coming to Ukiah.

Visited Carl Purdy's Brother

We paid a special visit to J. M. Purdy, a half-brother of Carl Purdy, the internationally-known horticulturist of Ukiah. When we drove up, we found Mr. Purdy at work in the flower garden. His wife was at home and the daughter soon arrived. They received us very cordially and seemed eager to hear from their relatives in California. They have a large, solidly-built, two-story home in Dalton, Penna. There are four large bedrooms upstairs and the living room which is entered from the street through a vestibule occupies the whole front of the lower floor. It contained a piano, radio, books, and periodicals and every sign of comfort and culture. Mr. Purdy showed us the copy of the "Country Gentleman" which contained an article telling the story of Carl Purdy's work. Several other families showed us the same magazine and I thought they seemed rather disappointed that we also knew about it. Surrounding the Purdy house are two acres of land which is as beautifully landscaped as if Carl Purdy himself had done the work. They have a beautiful out-door living room, lawns and flower gardens. They had just put in a pool and were planting the sedums about it. The daughter is a graduate of a teachers' college and taught four years, but is now head operator in the Dalton telephone office.

The same afternoon, we visited J. C. Jankus and family of Dalton. Mr. Jankus is a brother of Mrs. Katherine Foster of Ukiah. They seemed glad to see us and to hear directly from their relatives in the West. We found them very delightful people to meet. Mr. Jankus is a handsome and distinguished-looking man. Mrs. Jankus is a good-looking, well-educated woman with a rather unusual command of language. They have three children, two of whom were at home. The little daughter of grammar school age is a very beautiful and talented child, playing four different musical instruments. The second son is a handsome youth six feet tall. He graduated from the Dalton high school in June. The eldest son was working for the Johns Manville Company on the New York Fair grounds. Mrs. Jankus' mother completed the family circle.

Were At Lodge Meeting

Mrs. Snyder and I attended three meetings of Juanita Rebekah Lodge No. 44 with Mrs. Kathryn Gumble presiding while we were in Nicholson. Mrs. Snyder is a past noble grand of that lodge and was presented the 25 year jewel on the occasion of her visit home four years ago. Mrs. Snyder's daughter, Mrs. Myrtle Oakley, a beautiful and capable young woman, has been noble grand of Juanita Rebekah lodge twice and is now serving as past noble grand. At the last meeting we attended fifteen past and present officers beautifully attired in white satin and lace evening dresses, participated in an impressive and elaborate memorial ceremony. The social hour was converted into a party in honor of Mrs. Snyder. I was invited to speak at each meeting and told about our trip east, our pilgrimage to Washington, D. C., and our visit to New York and the World's Fair.

At Star Anniversary

May 15, I attended a dinner celebrating the 36th anniversary of the institution of Arbutus Chapter No. 29, Order of Eastern Star. On June 5, I was present at a stated meeting of this chapter over which Worthy Matron Viola Potter presided. May 17, I spoke on the subject of the "Redwoods" at a meeting of the Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church held at the home of Mrs. Lillian Sneidman and felt almost as much at home as I do with my own dear friends in the local Presbyterian church. At a meeting of the Methodist Missionary Society held at the beautiful country lodge of Dr. and Mrs. Van C. Decker on the bank of Tuckhannock creek June 28, I spoke on the subject of "California, the Golden" and the people on the other side of the continent seemed interested in what I was able to tell them about my native state. I was invited to speak at the Nicholson Rotary club but we left before the meeting date arrived.

Attended Grange

Mr. and Mrs. Snyder and I attended an all-day meeting of the Susquehanna Pomona Grange No. 7, which was held at Harford high school auditorium June 5 with Harford Grange No. 418 acting as the host organization. Twenty-six subordinate granges were represented in this Pomona Grange. A large crowd including a number of state officers were present. Pomona Master Glen Ely is a member of the Pennsylvania Legislature. Marketing and good roads were some of the subjects of discussion. The road plans of former-Governor Gifford Pinchot, who lives at New Milford, were often referred to. A fine lunch at a very nominal price was served at noon by the Grange women. At the afternoon session, Mr. Snyder discussed "Grange Progress in the West" and I spoke on the subject of "Flag Week."

Residents Were Kind

The last week of my stay in the east, I was a guest at the Hotel Almont in Nicholson, where I found friends whose kindness and companionship I deeply appreciated. Among these were Mrs. Myra Rought, the hospitality of whose home I enjoyed. I had the company daily of Mrs. Ned Tiffany who lives at the hotel and of Mrs. Carrie S. Davison, whose home is only one block away. Mrs. Davison is a past noble grand of the Rebekah lodge and has attended the Rebekah Assembly eight times. She is first vice-regent of Tunkhannock Chapter No. 286,150 D. A. R. She is in line to be the presiding officer next term. She is a direct descendent of Peregrin White, the first white child born in Plymouth. She was born on the Mayflower. We saw her cradle in Pilgrim Hall when we were there in 1937. Jesse L. Tiffany, who lives at the hotel, is editor of the Nicholson Examiner. He is familiar with the early history of the state and understands the derivation of the euphonious place names. Through his generosity I had all the papers, periodicals and books I could read. The kindness of Mrs. Mary Evans and Miss Mary Watkins added greatly to my comfort and happiness, at the hotel.

Mrs. T. Boyd, and son, Milo Russell were week-end visitors in Redwood Valley.

Rides again . . . To announce the 12th District Agricultural Fair in Ukiah August 23-24-25, when livestock, agricultural and domestic science activities of this Redwood Empire community will be presented in a mammoth educational fair. Entertainment during the three days will be featured by a horse show, barbecue, parades and dancing, free fire works, and a world's championship Model-T auto race, according to Barbara Allen and Frances Green.

Want Drum Corps At The State Fair

The new Grange Hall promises to be a popular dancing place, as already several organizations have plans under way for affairs to be held there. The Native Sons will take the hall over September 4, with the aim of raising funds to send the Drum Corps to Sacramento September 9 to participate in the mammoth Admission Day Parade. It would be a splendid thing to have Ukiah represented at that big event, and the publics' cooperation in making it possible will be much appreciated.

Bert Barrows has returned from San Francisco where he was visiting friends and viewing the Fair. He went there in company with Mrs. H. Greer, and her brother, Gus Hansen, who were recently guests at the Barrows home in Redwood Valley.

PECULIAR WAY TO "GET EVEN"

One Man War Seen In Supervisor's Campaign

Over in Anderson Valley a campaign is being carried on to defeat Chairman Ed. Haehl, who is seeking re-election as supervisor in that district. There could be no real charge made against the efficiency and honesty of the supervisor under attack, hence a subterfuge has been resorted to.

What Plan Is

Sheriff E. L. Williams appears as the man on the flying trapeeze and he asserts his opposition to Supervisor Haehl arises because of the fact, if Supervisor Haehl is defeated Dr. H. O. Cleland can be removed from his position as health officer of the county and A. R. O'Brien will lose his post as member of the board of directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District. These two men Mr. Williams dislikes. In view of the fact Dr. Cleland and Mr. O'Brien, each time they have been selected for the posts they hold have been elected unanimously, it is difficult to see how, even if Mr. Williams were successful in defeating Supervisor Haehl, his scheme for revenge on his two "enemies" could be brought about, but the truth of the matter is Mr. Williams is not actuated alone by a desire to "get even" with two men he disapproves of.

Wanted a Job

Not long ago Mr. Williams went to Supervisor Ed. Haehl and stated he wanted a job for one of the Prather boys in Anderson Valley and that he was not in a position to get a place for his friend. Mr. Williams asked Supervisor Haehl to give Mr. Prather a job. This, at the time, Supervisor Haehl was not able to do, as he could not discharge any member of his limited crew, all of whom were good workers and the road funds would not permit employment of additional men.

Let People Decide

Supervisor Haehl explained the situation to Mr. Williams but the latter was not satisfied and since announced his intention of "defeating" Supervisor Haehl. It is unfortunate such an unreasonable campaign should be made against Supervisor Haehl but Dr. H. O. Cleand and A. R. O'Brien are entirely willing Mr. Williams should campaign, unrestrainedly along such lines and they are satisfied the voters of Supervisor Haehl's district will not listen to a disgruntled person who would remove an honest, efficient and conscientious public official simply because he was not in a position to give a politician a job for one of his supporters.

PROGRESSIVES HAVE CONTROL

Old Guard Is Not Running Republican Party Today

The Progressive element of the Republican party will have a dominant part in the Willkie-McNary campaign. This was evidenced this week by the appointment, by the Republican State Central Committee, of Albert A. Rosenshine, prominent San Francisco atterney as chairman of the Northern California Advisory committee.

Long A Progressive

"Mr. Rosenshine exemplifies the Progressive trend of thought among California Republicans and has done so over a long period of years," said Chairman Bradford M. Melvin of the state committee, who announced the appointment. "His presence in the committee means that forward-thinking elements in the party will take a dominant part in the California campaign." Since 1919, when he was elected to the state assembly, Mr. Rosenshine has been actively identified with the public life of the state. He was an appointee of former Gov. C. C. Young to high state offices and has served as chairman of the State Social Welfare commission and has been president of the California Conference of Social Workers. He is a past president of the Commonwealth Club and has achieved a reputation as an arbitrator of labor disputes. In his own profession he has been a Governor of the State Bar and held other high offices in that organization.

To Unite Party

The advisory committee will not be "figureheads" but will take an active part in the Willkie-McNary campaign and will represent all northern counties. Chairman Melvin said. These appointments are another step in unification of all groups and factions within the Republican party in California.

Some Horse Sense

(The News—Chico)

Paul G. Jasper, Republican candidate for Congress from this district, addressed a local group this week and delivered some horse sense for them to figure out.

Subjects discussed were keeping the United States out of war; methods of re-employment by adjusting taxes and correcting bureau control; government competition in business; the balance and check system of government; revision of the labor laws to the end that they are equitable to all, and revision of the trade treaties that are now selling the farmer down the river.

Jasper stated that he could see no reason why we should enter this war as it is entirely for power between the various countries of Europe and he therefore felt that the sacrifice of American blood accompanied by the suffering of the mothers at home is far too great for the dollars and cents received.

He was equally vigorous in his belief that there should be a change in the tax and bureau system controlling business which would allow business to progress and thus take care of re-employment; also that there should be more business in the operation of our government and less interference by the government in private business.

Jasper went on record as being an ardent supporter of allowing the farmers to sell their produce on the American market before importing competitive produce.

Being a member of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, he stated he was bitterly opposed to Communism and favored a continuation of the splendid work of the Dies Committee and supporting J. Edgar Hoover in the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

On the national pension question Jasper was outspoken in his belief that there should be a national security for senior citizens and pledged himself to work to that end.

Has the New Deal ever, in the past or at this late date, offered anything to compare with this platform? All we have seen has been reckless spending, useless experimentation, and Communistic tendencies which offer to overthrow a goverment that has stood for 160 years.

TRAVELOGUE

(BY E. V. A. MURPHEY)

During my week at Chemawa Indian Summer School I stayed in Salem and was much interested in the plantings of handsome foliage trees I saw there. Uniformity and harmony of design seemed to prevail on certain streets. A green and white puzzle turned out to be a variegated box elder, or ash-leaved maple, copper beeches and Satsuma plums contrasted with silver poplars and the stately Port Orford cedar. Some of the lawns were of hair-like grass—velvety underfoot.

An Old Timer

Close by the State Capitol was a huge boulder deeply carved with old timers' initials overgrown with lichen. A bronze tablet stated Chemeketa Chapter of D. A. R. had placed it there to mark an old, old trail.

A Lovely Structure

The new State Capitol building is built of white marble and set in spacious grounds. Great shallow stairs make the approach and atop the noble dome is the giant golden figure of a woodsman with his axe on his shoulder. At night this figure is illuminated.

Many Statues Seen

Low marble walls flank the staircases and on these are historic figures — Sacajawea, the Bird Woman, pointing the way to Lewis and Clark—all of heroic size. The covered wagon pausing for repairs, the pioneer facing westward, woman, boy and horse in attitudes of rest. Beneath these carvings are two inscriptions: "Westward the star of empire takes its way," read one, and beneath the other, "We have thrust our frontiers to the setting sun." Up the second low flight of steps are more wall panels, these in map sections—one has Mexico and Louisiana, an American and an Indian rider meeting on the west boundary, successive steps in relief climbing the Rockies. On the upper part of this are the Great Lakes with wild geese flying over—Indian lodges, trappers, buffalo, great rivers with salmon leaping up the falls and at last with shaded eyes the weary travelers look upon the broad Pacific—in the distance a full-rigged ship.

Oregon's Birthday

Another map in low relief: Minnesota territory, Iowa territory, the covered wagon, Missouri, and a vast space to the westward marked Indian country, with blanket Indians and pioneer hand held high and open in sign of friendly greeting—To the north, Oregon country with elk and covered wagon train—California and Utah territory. Over the main entrance a great eagle spreads his wings over the date 1859, presumably the date when Oregon became a part of the Union, although that probably is incorrect because Oregon is celebrating its centennial now.

Are Getting Ready

By request of the civic committee in Salem, all men are wearing whiskers, some of the mutton chop variety, though woodsmen wear full beards and tuck them in at the belt. Mustaches are either of the small, trim, gambler type or are hooked behind the ears in moments of stress, such as soup eating.

Old-Fashioned Dresses

In ladies' dresses, gingham is in favor, though dotted swiss and organdy are much used. Ruffles from hem to neck worn high and pantalettes worn low, sunbonnets of the buttoned on crown variety are not worn on the head but tied loosely on the nape of the neck with vagrant curls escaping.

Show the Seal

Returning to the State Capitol building — over the main entrance are carved life-size three salmon, a male, a female, and a yearling or better — is that a grilse? On the floor beneath the dome is the great seal of Oregon in metal and mosaic. The setting sun. Ships of sail and steam, covered wagon, the miners' pick, the plough, the sheaf of grain. "The Union" and again the magic date of 1859.

Out of the Past

Beneath the great dome in quarter-circular murals are depicted scenes of Oregon history. Major McLoughlin of the Hudson's Bay Company welcoming the American emigrants background of Indians, mountain men, trappers, and a covered wagon camp, all in more than life-size and in beautiful color, done by F. H. Schwarz, 1938. There are about six of these panels, faithful in detail, and full of interest from the days of John Jacob Astor to the miner, fruit farmer, sheep and cattlemen.

Plenty of Marble

Oregon is well provided with handsome marble in all colors—panels, floors, stairs and balustrades show this to good advantage.

This Is True

Friends took me to Corvallis one day and enroute we passed Oregon State Normal. Over the gateway were carved these words: "Who dares to teach can never cease to learn." Returning from Corvallis I had the pleasure of an hour with two ladies who have often visited in the home of Mrs. G. M. Biggar, Mrs. Biggar's sister, Mrs. Sutherland and niece, Mrs. Powell, in their home at Sweet Home. We talked fast and the hour went even faster.

The Northern Teacher

Among the things which interested me at Chemawa Indian Summer School was the great number of teachers who came from Alaska. The majority had Indian blood and Indian features but many names were of Russian or Scandinavian origin.

They Show Bravery

I marvelled at the bravery of fluffy little ladies who flew from their lonely stations over swamps and dark fir forests, frowning mountains and tossing seas.

They had all the freshness of unspoiled children. They spoke, when questioned only—of the isolation from other white people, of the mail that "comes monthly in summer — every other month in winter," of the development of projects for Aleuts and Eskimos, of the thousand and one emergencies and illnesses that arise far from doctors and nurses.

Show Arctic Blossoms

Far from regarding their lives as sacrificial, they enjoy them—the long white nights, the sled journeys — even the air trips which shorten distance. Some of the teachers had brought brilliant pressed flowers with them—I longed to have more time to talk with them of the bloom on those far northern tundras. Three of those teachers asked if I wouldn't like to come to Alaska to study flowers—Alas! I never could fly. I have too many things yet to do. Orders to go to Blackfeet Reservation caused me to leave Chemawa after a week of pleasant association with many people all, working for a common aim, the betterment of the Indian.

(On Board The Empire Builder, Returning To Western Shoshone Reservation At Owyhee, Nevada.)

Several busy days were passed at Blackfeet Reservation, Browning, Montana, making field trips and studying the lay of the land in the interest of a project to landscape with native plants, trees and shrubs, the grounds of the new Museum of the Plains Indian.

Easy To See

The country immediately about Browning is quite flat and the huge Museum, built of dark red brick must be visible from every point of the compass for miles around. Those who visited the Indian exhibit at Treasure Island last year would be immediately reminded of that great hall in its height and spaciousness on entering the Plains Museum. There are many rooms and many closets and much storage space.

Plenty Of Room

Rooms where buckskin and bread makers will ply their crafts, and other rooms filled with historical mementoes of the Indians of several tribes, Blackfeet, Shoshone, Gros Ventre, Assenoborne, Sisseton Sioux, Comanche and Crow.

Those In Charge

M. Rene d' Hornicourt, who designed and carried out the Indian exhibit at Treasure Island, will do the same for this one. Kenneth Disher, son of Rev. Disher who used to be at Willits, will be one of the assistants. The architect is Carl Cederstrand from Washington office of Indian Bureau. Besides craft salesrooms there will be a dining terrace for tourists in a sheltered angle of the building with an unsurpassable view of the Rocky Mountains.

Indians Like It

The Blackfeet Indians are very proud of this museum, and some of them went to Washington to plead that it should be established. There are three tribes on this Reservation, Blackfeet, Piegans and Bloods. The Reservation comprises more than a million acres, 35 miles long in a solid block.

A Large Race

Never have I seen such a uniformly large and handsome race of Indians as the Blackfeet. The women are as large as the men and all wear braids, even little boys six to 15 years old. They are stately but friendly, many whom I met showed much interest in the project and volunteered to help me in case I were returned to Browning.

Much Is Possible

With assistance of the old people in identification and uses, a very nice garden of native use plants could be made, foods, medicines and etc.

A Perfect Setting

On the evening of my arrival I passed a couple of hours very pleasantly at Glacier Park hotel. At eight o'clock, Indians in tribal regalia began sauntering in to mix with the crowds of tourists. Promptly they took their seats on buffalo robes on the huge veranda with the most colorful backdrop in the whole U. S., the Rocky Mountains, at sunset, behind them. One after another war-bonneted chief rose and introduced his neighbor. The women were as colorful as the men, perhaps more so, with thick, black plaits of hair, bright shawls or blankets, swaying skirts of red, yellow or purple and the inevitable beaded moccasins, usually knee length. Their buckskin was very heavy and very white. It seemed stiff to me as if it were kept white with pipe clay. The drums began to beat, the large nail keg type and the small tambourine shapes, these last were held close to the left ear while drumming.

The Strange Voices

Together they sang, the men and the women, as one might expect from such big people, the men's voices were deep and resonant, but the women's singing puzzled me. It was like tenor voices dropping swiftly into falsetto; like voices heard near Indian camps at nightfall. Two men danced opposite each other in pantomime—no wonder the Indians were masters of the sign language—they can express every emotion without a word.

Had To Go

At last the Government car came for me. It was with reluctance that I left such a picturesque and interesting scene.

The Fires Began

The past two weeks have been hard for Montana forests and ranges. The Indian Service Forester was detailed to take me out to look at plants and of course we went to lookout stations. Immediately there were phone calls about fires—from one to three a day lately—all of lightning origin.

Using Parachutes

Taking a leaf from Hitler's book, many parachute patrolmen equipped with portable radios have been dropped at strategic points to communicate with headquarters and have thus expedited the quenching of the flames.

Saw Fine Paintings

Great Falls, Montana — An overnight wait for a train to Butte gave me an opportunity to visit at a saloon called the Mint, a most interesting collection of Montana historical relics and many original paintings by Charlie Russell, the cowboy artist and philosopher. Nearly all his paintings are reproduced in color prints, these are for sale from fifty cents upward. One of the artists personal letters to a friend gives comment on breaking the prairie sod, the condition which later brought on the Dust Bowl. The quotation follows: "You wouldn't know this town or the country either—it's all grass-side down. Where once you rode circle and I night wrangled, a gopher couldn't graze now. The boosters say its a better country than it ever was, but it looks like hell to me. I liked it better when it belonged to God. It was sure His country when we knew it."

As He Was

The publisher of The Republican Press was a close friend of Charlie Russell, who first came into fame when, rather than write a letter to the owners of a great ranch on which he was foreman, and tell them all of the cattle on the range had died in one of Eastern Montana's early day blizzards, got a piece of paper and drew a picture of a steer exhausted in a blizzard with two wolves hovering nearby waiting for the steer to die and, under the picture scribbled the words "The Last Of Five Thousand." The drawing was so remarkably true to life, when it reached the eastern ranch owner, he came west to see Charlie Russell and induced him to take time and draw an enlarged picture of the tragic stock scene. This Charlie did. In fact, he painted it and from that picture his career started and he became a rival of Frederick Remington as a range portrayer on canvas.

One Of The Best

He used to hang out in the Old Gem saloon in Great Falls. Charlie Russell at that time used to wear a big white sombrero and he always wore a sash. He was not of an industrious nature and he did not paint a great deal. He did, however, continue his work as an artist enough to keep going. He used to keep his money in a brass bowl and, when it began to dwindle, he would get busy and paint another masterpiece. He was much on the Will Rogers' type, but he could not wisecrack. He was a fine friend and he had the open-handed generosity one used to find on the range in the old days.

To Get A Bust

A famous sculptor in San Francisco, who happened to learn of my friendship with Charlie Russell, is going to turn over to me a bust of Charlie Russell. He was commissioned to make a bust of Charlie Russell and Will Rogers and he is going to present me an extra bust he is making of Charlie Russell and it will be brought here and placed in the office on the walls of which there are likenesses of many famous Californians.

The North Coast Sportsmen's Association held its quarterly meeting at San Rafael last week. The most important topic considered was replenishing streams in the Redwood Empire. An agitation has begun for a fish hatchery in this section. The Fish and Game Commission is favorably inclined to the project. Another matter considered was having a lifeguard stationed on Klamath river during fishing season. Several persons have been drowned because of being unfamiliar with local conditions. Al Bechtol, representing the Ukiah Club, stated waters of Pillsbury lake were becoming clearer and this is a very desirable condition for murky water has made fishing disagreeable.

A Fish Hatchery May Be Obtained

Mr. and Mrs. Monte Reid attended a meeting of the Eel River Sportsmen's Club at Reynolds Park, Sunday. AMATEURS ARE SPLENDID HIT

Excellent Talent A Feature Of The Try-Outs

Another amateur try-out on court-house square Saturday night earned four young people the right to qualify for grand finals August 24.

Winners of the recent contests were Joan Ford, eight years of age, who sang "Playmates," and "Alexander's Ragtime Band," nine-year-old Gino Michaeletti, playing the tonette, and rendering "God Bless America," followed by "Beer Barrel Polka," Billy Williams, eight, singing "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," and "God Bless America," Karine Carlson, 15, with a gay Spanish dance. August 17 at seven o'clock, the final try-outs will take place, and four more winners will be selected, making a total of twelve contestants to appear at the Fair Grounds August 24, when four merchandise orders of $10.00 each will be given away by P. H. Joseph and others. Entries are coming in fast for next Saturday's contest, but there is room for a few more if they do not delay. Only twelve can be accepted, and as this marks the closing try-out, it is the last chance to win a place in the final line-up. The deadline for accepting applications is four o'clock Friday, and at that time rehearsals will begin at The Palace Hotel.

List Of Entrants

Those scheduled to appear at the final try-out so far are:

NAVY CENTERS ON DEER HUNT

Officers Seek Bucks On The Redemeyer Ranches

Opening day of deer season saw the Redemeyer ranches near Laytonville play host to the Navy. Dr. Hubert Redemeyer, prominent San Francisco dentist and a Lieutenant in the United States Naval Reserve had as his guests Commander Henry Stanley Commandant of the Alameda Air Base, Commander Errol Willett, Lieutenant Commanders Harry F. Hake and Emil G. Wunner, and Lieutenant of Marines William F. Kramer. Lieutenant Kramer returned from Shanghai, China, just in time to be on hand on opening day.

Admired Mendocino

Commander Stanley proved to be the best shot in the crowd. Shortly after sunrise he bagged a fine three-point buck, which dressed one hundred eighteen pounds. These officers, who have hunted in many parts of the world, expressed themselves as being very pleased with the beauties of Mendocino county and are hoping circumstances may permit them to return in the future.

C. M. Mortensen went to San Francisco Sunday for a stay of several days, during which he will make selections of fall stock.

THE TRUTH SIMPLY TOLD

Today's popularity of Doan's Pills, after many years of world-wide use, surely must be accepted as evidence of satisfactory use. And favorable public opinion supports that of the able physicians who test the value of Doan's under exacting laboratory conditions.

These physicians, too, approve every word of advertising you read, the objective of which is only to recommend Doan's Pills as a good diuretic treatment for disorder of the kidney function and for relief of the pain and worry it causes.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove waste that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole body suffers when kidneys lag, and diuretic medication would be more often employed.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warn of disturbed kidney function. You may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all played out.

Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Ask your neighbor!

DO YOU REMEMBER WHEN THESE EVENTS TOOK PLACE IN UKIAH?

Out Of The Past Occurrences Brought To Mind By Reporter Of The Republican Press To Recall Old Times

(By Fred Loring)

Do you remember when all the vegetables and meat consumed by the people of Ukiah were grown in this vicinity? Now most of our vegetables and cured and fresh meats are brought here from San Francisco.

Came To Your Home.

During the Victorian period and up to the advent of automobiles there were a number of vegetable gardens in the Talmage section and these gardeners raised almost everything in the catalogue in the vegetable line—ranged all the way from lettuce and radishes to corn and pumpkins—and furthermore the product could not be surpassed any place in the world. These men used to "peddle their product" during the season and generally had a one-horse wagon and made the rounds of their steady customers daily. They drove up to a house and the housewife came out and made her selections for at that time about the only vegetables sold in the stores were potatoes.

Raised Famous Melons.

Likely the largest, sweetest and most delicious watermelons grown anywhere were sold about town and the average price for a large melon was 15 cents. At that time, if the purchaser was in doubt about its ripeness, it was permissible to plug the melon. These melons were raised without irrigation and the nearest we now have to them are those grown in Potter Valley. Melons in those days did not taste like pumpkins.

He Grew Onions.

August Figone was one of these old-day gardeners and because he excelled in onions we will have to mention him. He raised onions that were as large as small cabbages and as sweet as apples. Some of these onions weighed as much as eight pounds and at the Midwinter Fair, which was held at San Francisco during the winter of 1893-94, Mr. Figone was awarded first prize in competition with the world. After he had established a reputation for his onions Mr. Figone had standing orders for his product from customers in San Francisco and elsewhere and his onions always sold for about a cent more a pound than common ones.

Land Well Fertilized.

In those days there were a number of large livery stables in Ukiah and numerous private barns. Naturally there was a large accumulation of manure which the owners of stables and barns were only too glad to get rid of and during the late fall and winter months actually hundreds of wagon loads of this fertilizer was hauled out and spread deep on ranch lands and then plowed under and crops which followed were getting better and better all the time. In those days but few of the ranches were mortgaged and while the owners were not rich according to present standards they were all in comfortable circumstances.

A Fine Citizenry.

In those days ranchers and their help worked from daylight to dark and they were all happy and contented. They were good citizens and honest and honorable in all their dealings with their fellowmen and no person, even a stranger, was allowed to leave their homes without something to eat. Long ago, even a stranger, who happened to come along at meal time, was invited to partake of the family meal and, if they failed to do so, owners of the ranch felt hurt.

What Has Happened.

Now most of our vegetables and meat are brought here from San Francisco or some other outside place and most of the ranches are mortgaged. Not only this, but land is getting poorer all of the time, yet costly artificial fertilizer is used. In most ways the good old days are better than what we now have.

Cannot Slaughter.

Here in Ukiah at the present time the buttermilk and cottage cheese sold at the stores all comes from Petaluma, or some other outside place, and it is a "crime" for a rancher to slaughter a calf or hog and sell it at a local market.

The First Alligators

Do you remember the first and only alligators we ever had in Ukiah? About 55 years ago Mumm Reid was employed as a druggist by his brother-in-law, J. R. Matthews, who conducted a drug store where the Rose Beauty Parlor is now located on Standley street. Mr. Reid always wanted something that was out of the ordinary and one day a friend, who was leaving on an eastern trip, told him he would send him something which was extraordinary. Shortly afterwards Mr. Reid received some baby alligators by express from Florida, a male and female. A basin full of water was made for them in one of the show windows and naturally they attracted much attention. In a few years they were four feet long.

Are Misunderstood

Alligators, strange creatures, are not, generally, given much credit for intelligence but Mr. Reid informs us they are really loving and intelligent animals. When they were several feet in length he could handle them like one would a puppie or kitten and hold them on his lap and stroke them but the only sound they were able to make was a grunt. He turned them loose and gave each a name to which they answered and came when they were called. The real trouble started when Mr. Reid took them over to the courthouse square to let them exercise in the weeds and grass which then covered those grounds and a number of Ukiah people, who saw them were frightened and made objection to their running at large around the court house.

One Was Killed

Finally one of the gators when crossing Standley street was run over by a wagon and killed. Following this Mr. Reid moved to Willits where he opened a drug store and took his other pet up there with him. He says alligators are not over particular about their food but when they had the run of the store at nights they cleaned out all of the mice and rats of which they are particularly fond. Alligators eat every third day and Mr. Reid used to go to a butcher shop and get a lot of scraps which they devoured greedily.

SITTING PRETTY FAIR at UKIAH

Boosters for the 12th District Agricultural Fair in Ukiah, August 23-24-25, begin preliminary fair activities by demonstrating how "not" to get on a horse. More than $8,000 in premiums will be awarded exhibitors at this annual Redwood Empire variety show, where agricultural, livestock and educational displays will combine with a carnival of fun for the enjoyment of visitors. Irene Sandelin, Betty Jane Mustard and Francis Green, agree the Ukiah Fair will be a "real show."

HOME OWNING MADE EASY BY COOPERATION NOW EXISTING

Banks, Contractors And Building Supply Houses Unite In Drive To Provide For New And Remodeled Residences

There probably has never been a better chance for one desiring to own his own home and who has little to start on to obtain his dream house than exists at present. Anyone who owns a lot and is in a position to meet payments about equal to what a suitable house rents for is not taking a risk in acquiring a FHA loan home for himself.

Easy To Handle

Locally lots are available at very reasonable prices and, the truth of the matter is, about all that is today necessary is to have a lot and the FHA plans can be obtained providing for almost any kind of a home one may care to own and, after you have selected the plans, the FHA will do the rest.

What Idea Is

There are, too, ways open to those who own old residences who would modernize them. Anything in the way of modernizing an old house can be provided by a Home Loan. The fact of the matter is there are many who believe it is much better business policy to remodel an old home than it is to build a new one. There is no question but that many an old house, after remodeling it, enhances the property value immensely.

All Work Together

Just at this time the Banks are making a drive for such loans and contractors and building materials houses of the city are co-operating with the Banks and no one who has been thinking of building a home should fail to take advantage of the prevailing opportunity to be helped doing so. This holds true, also, of those who have contemplated remodeling their old homes. The banks are just as willing to advance money for remodeling as they are for erecting new structures.

Great Building Boon

A report given out by the Federal Housing Administration indicates mortgages selected for FHA appraisal show the number of houses built leaped to a gain of 55 per cent over the same period last year, with an increase of $13,037,300 in the amount invested in residential construction under the insured mortgage system. The records show mortgages, aggregating $39,083,100, selected on 8744 homes built under FHA inspection from approved plans and specifications during the 6-months' period within the 46 counties of northern California district. Locally a large number of FHA financed houses have gone up and many more are to be started before fall.

HOT WAVE WAS PRICE CUTTER

Ukiah Pears Brought Lower Than Looked For Returns

An average of 30 cars of pears a day are being shipped out of here at this time. Intense heat in the east caused a bad market slump last week and prices offered were far under what had been anticipated.

What Price Is

The canneries are getting about one-third of the crop and a price of about $35 is expected from now on.

Our pear crop will not be as large as usual and not more than 80 per cent of that of last year which was also a short year. It is probable we will have about a two-thirds crop, but the fruit is said to be large, well formed and clean. Many carloads of canning pears have been shipped and they will now go out daily.

Price Is Fair

While eastern prices are none too good still it will leave the grower a fair profit. Pears delivered in the east have averaged about $2.50 per box which nets local growers a little better than $35 per ton. These were the prices received for the Sacramento valley fruit and it should be remembered Mendocino and Lake county pears always bring the highest price.

Fishing Fleet Is Doing Very Well

The fishing fleet has been landing some nice catches again this week at Arena Cove where fish are loaded on trucks and rushed to the city market.

FRIEND OF FRIENDLESS MEN WANDERS ON TO OTHER SIDE

George Anagnostic, Long A Restaurant Man Here, Died Friday—Will Rest In Livermore Cemetery

A friend of the down and outer, the hungry man, has heard his last story of hard luck and wandered on off into that land where, it is hoped miseries will be faced no more. For years George Anagnostis conducted a restaurant on East Perkins street and there he fed great numbers of men who, out on the road, were hungry and broke.

Had Great Sympathy

He was a kindly soul and for those who were in trouble he had the greatest sympathy. Locally he was known as "Greek George." He was a Greek.

Was Very Popular

Mr. Anagnostis had lived hereabouts many years and in this locality he had a large number of friends. Deceased was about 65 years of age. His family connections are not known. Mr. Anagnostis died in Ukiah Friday. The remains were shipped to Livermore Monday morning and burial was that afternoon at Livermore. A rosary for the repose of the soul of the dead caterer was said Monday evening.

Born In Greece

Nickitis George Anagnostis was a native of Greece, but for 45 years a resident of this country. Deceased is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Lillian Linschoten of San Francisco.

Native Son-Daughter Combine On A Display

E. E. Coleman motored to Fort Bragg Friday evening to attend the meeting of Alder Glen Parlor 200, N. S. G. W., main business of which was a discussion of plans for the mammoth Admission Day parade to be held in Sacramento. Native Daughters and Native Sons of Fort Bragg, Point Arena, and Ukiah will jointly enter a fine float to represent Mendocino County, and the drum corps will go from here to participate. The celebration marks the ninetieth anniversary of California's recognition as one of the States of the Union, a memorable day in the state's colorful history. Merchants are urged to observe the holiday by closing their places of business and by displaying the Bear Flag. At this time a reminder is issued to the men and women who claim this golden state as their birthplace they are privileged, if they have not yet done so, to affiliate with either of California's two outstanding patriotic orders, Native Daughters or Native Sons.

TEN BUCKS FOR A BOLD BURGLAR

(The Willits News)

William "Bill" Muir, Willits' home made "Philo Vance," who recently displayed better than average detective ability and perseverance in bringing about arrest of an itinerant who robbed his home, received a cash reward for his work from the California Cultivator publication last week. The reward, making his success as an amateur sleuth even more conclusive was for $10 and was paid in accordance with the policy of the California Cultivator Farm Protection Service, by which a subscriber who captures a thief having stolen from him and recovers the stolen property, is rewarded for his efforts. Recently returning to his home, Mr. Muir discovered his place had been ransacked and a number of articles taken. Upon learning the description of a man who had been seen by neighbors around his home, Mr. Muir came to Willits with hope of locating the person answering the description. He soon spotted a youth on Main street who resembled the description and had the youth taken into custody. The stranger was questioned and intentionally released, after which Mr. Muir and the police trailed him to the railroad yards where they came upon him with a goodly portion of the loot he had taken from the Muir home.

BUSINESS TO BE ASKED TO CLOSE AUG. 24

Fair Management Is To Seek A Full Co-Operation

BIG PROGRAM BACKED

Afternoon Events A Revelation, Says The Committee

Endorsed by the Chamber of Commerce, and already approved by many local merchants, is a proposal that Saturday afternoon, August 24th, be a holiday, given over to the mammoth barbecue and horse sports show, under direction of the Ukiah Riding and Driving Club. Stores and business houses would close at noon under the plan, and the rest of the day would be devoted to merriment and recreation, and the community's wholehearted participation in the Twelfth District Agricultural Fair.

Premium List Large

Since this is the first year the Fair Board has attempted to put on the event without asking donations, but working entirely on money alloted the Fair, they are more than ever anxious to make it a memorable occasion in every way. Not only is there no direct cost to local merchants and townspeople, for this year's Fair, but the premiums are greater than before, more than $8,000, half of which will stay in the county, benefitting one and all either directly or indirectly. Since we are not obliged to contribute money to make our Fair successful, certainly we can all afford to contribute time and co-operative effort to further plans of the Fair Board.

AGED MAN ILL

W. J. Stocker, of Robinson Creek, found in his cabin very ill last week is somewhat improved under the care of Dr. L. K. Van Allen.

PROTESTS TAX

Alleging the estimate of taxes due on the estate of her husband was too high, Mrs. Charles A. Edwards has asked for a hearing before the State Comptroller. The value of the estate, as set by Appraiser Judge J. W. Kingren, was $221,000. The Federal tax was $4764.00 and the State tax $3095.84. Preston and Gibson will represent Mrs. Edwards.

"Bill" Stanton Is Resting On Coast

The Mendocino Beacon says: Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Stanton and the latter's sister, Mrs. Grace Seaman, arrived from San Francisco Friday for a week's visit here at the Stanton home south of Big river. "Bill" Stanton made San Francisco one of the best supervisors that county ever had and he did equally as well while he was a director of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District. All over the city "Bill" Stanton is held in high esteem and everyone hopes, now that he has retired, the easy life he enjoys is agreeable to him, after all the exciting times he has been through.

Jacklyn Hogan and Raylene Pearl have been guests several days at the home of the latter's aunt, Mrs. John Schoemer in San Francisco.

Now is the Time to Modernize,

WHY NOT REPAIR OR REMODEL YOUR HOME — IT'S EASY TO DO

With all the interest lately showered on bright new homes, it is refreshing to observe the enthusiasm behind the campaign just starting in Ukiah to remodel, refinish, improve and enlarge existing homes under the liberal terms of the Federal Housing Act.

An intensive campaign in this direction was suggested a few weeks ago by the officers of the Bank of America branch here; the Savings Bank of Mendocino County gladly lent its support; the directors of the Chamber of Commerce unanimously endorsed it; practically all local contractors, supply men and equipment dealers have gotten enthusiastically behind the project, and Ukiah is ready to go.

Here's Your Part

Look at that old attic room and visualize it converted into a clean and attractive guest or play room. Look around that back yard and picture it with lawn,, barbecue pit and attractive stepping-stone walks. Decide whether a paint job might brighten the old place we call "home." Give some thought to new linoleum, carpets, venetian blinds, residential air-cooling, modernizing the kitchen or the bath room—the things you've always felt you wanted but never quite got around to doing.

Then go to either local bank and see the ease with which all this can be financed, quickly and cheaply, through liberal FHA terms, whether your home is paid for or not.

Check carefully the advertisements in this issue; services and material are offered by reliable businses houses on the FHA plan, their full co-operation is assured.

A Movable House Is Really Novel

Lloyd Bittenbender has constructed a unique movable cabin at his lumber yard on south State street. The structure, which is to be delivered in Lake county for a State Highway office, is 10x16 feet in size. It has eight windows and is made in sections, bolted together. Any carpenter can set it up in a few hours and it can be moved, easily, from place to place. For a nomad, who seeks new scenes of activity on outings, it is ideal. On top of being easy to take about, it also is easy to acquire, as the total cost is but $225.

UNEMPLOYMENT CHECKS

In Mendocino county, unemployed workers received 781 checks during June amounting to $10,981 as compared with the 1,140 checks written in May totaling $11,890.

Harry Kay, one of Santa Rosa's leading business men, was here Wednesday and returned home after having devoted considerable time telling Ukiah friends what an excellent Fair Sonoma county was putting on.

In Ukiah Hospital

Mrs. Don MacCallum is a patient at Ukiah General Hospital where she is reported improving. Mr. and Mrs. MacCallum returned recently from a motor trip in which they drove over 6000 miles and became ill on arrival home, a rather unhappy ending to a vacation. The valley wishes her speedy recovery.

Valley Woman Sick

Mrs. D. P. Lawson is sick in Ukiah but, due to crowded condition of the Hospital was forced to take a h otel room instead and is a guest at The Palace. Mrs. Lawson has erysipelas and was taken to Ukiah Wednesday by her brother, H. T. Ornbaun, and is under the care of Dr. Stanley Rea. Her hosts of friends here will regret to learn of her illness.

Ex-Official Calls

T. J. Flinn, former superintendent of the Albion Lumber Co., was here Friday enroute to his home in San Francisco following a business trip to Albion. Mrs. Dick Hood, of Albion, accompanied him this far and drove her car, which was in the Live Oak Garage, back to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Harris of San Francisco were guests of Mrs. Alta Johnson, Friday.

Reptiles Plentiful

Many reports of rattlesnakes are coming in, eight have been killed on the Crispin ranch on the Point Arena road this season, K. B. Wallach heard one rattle while cording up bark and discovered it coiled in a curl of bark he was handling. The same day Mrs. W. L. Witherell noticed two kittens acting strangely and went outside to investigate and found a huge rattler coiled while the kittens with arched backs prepared to attack. Mrs. Witherell's aim with a shotgun proved so effective she was unable to count the rattles.

The Apple Outlook

R. G. Jewell, green apple buyer from Sebastopol, was a valley visitor Saturday and expected to be back again this week. Most of the growers hope to sell their apples green as the outlook for dryed apples is poor due to the tonnage held over from the 1939 crop and the closing of export demands.

Had Tonsils Removed

Mrs. Leland Farrer and Miss Era Belle Bohannon submitted to tonsil operations at Healdsburg hospital Monday last, Dr. D. C. Oakleaf was the surgeon. Mrs. J. Deady Farrer motored down for them on Tuesday and Mrs. Farrer was a guest in her home for the balance of the week while Miss Bohannon passed several days at the J. T. Farrer home. Mrs. Leland Farrer returned to Rockport where they are passing the summer, on Sunday, and Miss Bohannon hopes to be back on duty at Farrer's store this week.

Going To Springs

J. M. Hutsell and A. J. Shields left Saturday for a three-weeks' stay at Deer Lick Springs where they hope to benefit by the waters of that famous spring.

Mrs. H. McVicar and son, Sidney, of Alameda, are guests of the George Estes'. They are former residents of the valley.

Visiting Mother

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Holmes, of Coalinga, arrived Monday for a two-weeks visit with the latters' mother, Mrs. J. C. Lemon. They were joined by their daughter, Barbara,wh o has been the guest of her aunt, Mrs. E. N. Knivila, in Rockport the past month.

A Close Call

A. B. Willis had a narrow escape from serious injury or death Tuesday afternoon when a flying rock sledge struck him just below the eye, inflicting a painful injury and knocking him down. Mr. Willis is employed with Elmer Lowrey in clearing the right-of-way on the Point Arena road, which includes the cutting of all trees over 10 inches, before the WPA takes over the work of improving this short cut to the coast. At the time of the accident they were wedging a tree with Mr. Lowry using the rock sledge when the head flew off and struck his partner. The rock sledge is made with a pick on one side and a sledge hammer on the other side of the head and fortunately the hammer side struck Mr. Willis. The injury was so near the eye that had he been struck by the pick he probably would have lost his eye or even his life. He was also fortunate he was standing on the ground instead of the spring board as that would have meant a drop of at least 20 feet down the embankment. In fact, Mr. Willis is congratulating himself he got off as light as he did.

For Good Cause

The proceeds from the high school dance given Saturday night will be used to improve the grounds of the school.

Dr. E. W. Jordt of Cloverdale was here Saturday on a hunting trip.

Country Denuded By Orders For U. S. Naval Base

25,000 TREES NEEDED

Big Payroll Created Trucking And In Woods

All of last summer and fall numerous trucks passed through town every day loaded with long piles which were being taken to the U. S. Naval base now in course of construction at Alameda.

Several Camps Active

This summer several crews are employed getting out piles northwest of Ukiah in the Orrs Springs and Low Gap section. There are also a number of crews employed within a radius of 12 miles of Willits, in the Long Valley district and as far north as southern Humboldt county.

Denuding Forests

These piles are driven into the mud flats to make a foundation. It is reported it will take 25,000 of these piles to make a foundation and most of them come from this part of the state. These piles are made from selected fir trees and average from 60 to 80 feet in length.

Creates A Payroll

After the trees are cut, the bark is peeled and this makes considerable work and brings a lot of money to this section.

Who Pleads For A Coast Line Highway As Defense Measure.

Bureaus Destroy Us

"What have we to defend," continued Mr. Jasper, "if we continue in the footsteps of France and let governmental bureaus sap the strength of the nation? How can this nation provide the sinews of war when we have an administration so interested in buying favor of separated groups, including those working for our destruction, that mass production must await a new administration?"

Knows The Needs

"Being thoroughly familiar with this district, I know what and where to defend and, through years of study and contact with defense problems, I am able to perform. From my high school days on through the last World War, I have championed the American cause. Through my experience as a California highway commissioner, I am able to do more than any other person going to Congress, to provide adequate highways for this district's long coast line now undefended even though we have had one Congressman for twenty-four years."

Lovely Home Is Fire Endangered

There is no more charming home in the Little Lake Valley than the recently constructed $10,000 residence of Dr. R. B. Smalley's home and, for a short time, it was feared it might be destroyed. Firemen were on the scene quickly and saved the property. A smouldering fire had set the dry grass ablaze last week.

Assemblyman Michael J. Burns, after interviewing voters here the past week returned to his Eureka home, satisfied with indications here he would carry this county by a nice majority.

DINERS HEARD FINE REPORTS

Forum Luncheon Listened To Enthusiastic Addresses

The Chamber of Commerce Forum Luncheon Wednesday at the Rainbow Cafe proved most interesting, due to various topics under discussion during the meeting.

Told of Trips

Following routine business, C. N. Snyder was called upon to relate experiences of his eastern tour, and Ralph Hogan, recently returned from a vacation in Canada, gave an account of the trip to the northwest. Asked to sum up a few facts relative to the fruit season now under way, and of interest to everyone in the community, Norman Buhn gave an enlightening talk on the situation, following up with a short discourse on the splendid work being done in preparation for the Twelfth District Agricultural Fair. According to Mr. Buhn, things are shaping up fine for the event, and everyone is making a concerted effort to insure a success.

Quadrille Is Praised

Members at the luncheon were given an outline of the remarkable work being done by the Ukiah Quadrille, which Dr. C. E. Morris declared is not only a credit to this city but to the entire county. He pointed out the fact that, what the Cavaliers have done for Santa Rosa, can and will be accomplished by the Quadrille for this community. From the standpoint of publicity alone, the Quadrile is of great local benefit; this is evidenced by letters received from time to time asking the team to appear in various celebrations in other towns. At present there is a possibility of the Ukiah riders appearing at Treasure Island, at Gridley, Lodi, and Bay Meadows.

The Riding Club Feature

Wes Martin followed up the talk by Dr. Morris with a summary of the Ukiah Riding and Driving Club's plans for the barbecue and horse sports that unit is sponsoring at the Fair, August 24th. The Club has arranged a wonderful program for the pleasure of the public, and is asking co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce in putting the affair across as successfully as possible. The meeting closed on a note of enthusiasm for the forthcoming celebration here, and a resolve it should go over 100 per cent.

WILLITS MAN AND WIFE IN STREET FIGHT

Officer Has Tough Time With Pair Of Battlers

CITIZENS HELP OUT

Mr. And Mrs. J. C. Jordan Oppose Policeman Bergsen

What is taking place in England along war lines was emulated by a Willits man and wife, when they "moved in" on Officer William Bergsen of that city the other day, states The Willits News in the following article:

Appearing before Judge C. A Larson Monday on a charge of resisting an officer, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Jordan of Willits were scheduled to appear August 21 for a preliminary hearing and were released on their own recognizance.

Story Of Officer

According to Policeman William Bergsen, arresting officer, he received a report Sunday evening a car had collided with a fire hydrant at Main and California streets and, investigating the report, he found Mr. Jordan working on the car's motor and his wife sitting in the machine while it was parked on Main street.

They Were "Swacked"

Stepping up to the car he noticed both had been drinking, Officer Bergsen said, and asked for the keys to the vehicle. Mrs. Jordan grabbed the keys and refused to give them to him and he placed them both under arrest and brought them to the police office. While he was telephoning a doctor to examine them for intoxication, they got out of the police car and started running down the alley between the White House building and the Willits News Office. He again halted them and started to take them back to the police office.

Put Up Battle

While crossing Main street, bystanders assisted the officer in controlling the couple after Mrs. Jordan had struck him with a rock and scratched his face and her husband had grabbed his night stick, he said. Mr. Jordan faces a drunk driving charge in the local police court after the former charge is heard in the justice court, according to Police Judge Allan Sacry.

Miss Alice Wenglein, in training at Mt. Zion Hospital, San Francisco, after visiting her parents, Mr. a.. Mrs. George P. Wenglein 10 days, is returning to resume her duties in the city.

BOOZE URGE A DESPERATE ONE

Coaster's Thirst Is Evidenced By Big Broken Window

If you cannot get whiskey one way, get it another. That, seemingly, is the logic of some thirsty man over in Fort Bragg where The Fort Bragg Pharmacy is minus two bottles of liquor and has a broken window to replace, due to someone's apparent thirst Saturday night.

Left Some Stock

Sometime during the night someone let fly with a brick and broke the big window covering Mr. Kelly's liquor display. Two bottles of liquor were missing. The culprit must have been in a hurry as seven more bottles in the display were left untouched. He also left the brick which the proprietor is keeping as a souvenir.

HONEST MIKE BURNS TALKS TO GRAPE MEN

Assemblyman Told Vineyardists A Few Facts

OUTLINES OLD FIGHT

Battle At Sacramento Was Bankers Vs. Small Growers

The fruit growers of Mendocino county, and particularly those engaged in grape culture have been very greatly benefitted by the present law put through the legislature recently, very largely by the efforts of Assemblyman Michael J. Burns, whose untiring efforts in behalf of the small farmers and growers of this country have brought very substantial advantages to the people of this county.

Assemblyman M. J. Burns

He Acted First

It will be remembered Assemblyman Burns (some three years before this law passed by the recent legislature), introduced a bill providing control of the then existing pro-rate law, placing it in the Department of Agriculture, where 'h elaw could be administered in the interest of the small farmers.

smaller farmers. In these counties, of which Mendocino was one of the worst sufferers. farmers are now free to sell their graps and other fruit crops to the best bidders, entirely unhindered by the unfair workings of the pro-rate law as it applies to small growers.

Spoke of Effacts

The following excerpts from Assemblyman Burns' speech at the Grape Growers' Protective Association at Calpella a few days ago, explain the situation more in detail:

"Of those who have spoken here today, I think perhaps I am less understood than the others because I have not had the opportunity of meeting all of you, and of knowing your particular troubles, nor have you known of my views in my attempts to help the small farmers and growers of this Assembly distric tSmo.en.ce this Assembly district. Some of you I have met, and you know something of what I have been doing; but a great many others I have not had the pleasure of meeting.

Saw It First

"I had made a thorough study of, and well understood your pro-rate program three years before you had the pro-rate in Mendocino county. Many had told me they went up and down the valley working against me. Since our meeting and discussion of the problem, those who opposed me have changed their opinions of me and my efforts in behalf of the small growers of my district. This is very gratifying to me, for they are now among my very best friends.

An Infamous Law

"The battle in the legislature was a hectic one, but by finally inducing others from this group of counties to co-operate with us, we were able at last to exclude the thirteen counties from the unjust, unfair and malicious pro-rate law. There are undoubtedly some counties that can be fairly pro-rated. There is no dispute about that. But with this group of counties it is different. With twelve tons to the acre of grapes, in irrigated counties, it might work. But with smaller production and with permission to sell only 55 per cent of your crop and 45 per cent of it to be delivered to the wineries to be used for other purposes—to be redeemed by certificate later on, and the certificate having to be bought—it theoretically is supposed to work fine, but practically it just did not make sense to the small grower. He found that out to his great loss later on.

Where He Stands

"Of course I know that during the pro-rate fight I made a lot of enemies, and very influential enemies at that. It seems, sometimes, that in order to be "a good legislator" one must not expect to represent his district, but just to smile and be a good fellow, while the other fellows are putting over their measures. If I had done that I might not have made so many influential enemies, but I surely would have felt guilty of a breach of trust, and of not being faithful to my oath of office. If I had done that I would not desire to continue in office, to be supposedly carrying on for my constituents, and all the time winking at infractions of the law. I am responsible only to California as a whole and to the First Assembly District. I take my orders from the people collectively, and not from individuals. And it is a great pleasure to have received your collective orders and to be in a position to carry them out, whereby your industry has benefitted. And it is a great personal satisfaction to me that you have indicated your appreciation of my efforts in your behalf—my efforts to represent your collective interests correctly in the California legislature."

At the Grapegrowers Picnic President Harry J. Mathews told his audience Assemblyman M. J. Burns had proven the staunchest friend in the legislature the Grapegrowers had and urged every vineyardist, for his own interest, to vote for Assemblyman Burns at the coming primary.
